DSA business manager making life easier

By Al Cook

For Olinia in the college's first business manager and assistant to DSA president Josephine, that has been a most definitely fulfilling job opportunity.

Through a recent graduate of the management studies program here at Drexel who interned in several offices, Olinia was hired to run DSA and to provide cash and to be like a secretary and the captain, said Olinia.

The position for a business manager was given by the new DSA president, a woman who is the friend of Olinia's, who she reported in it was up to her to ensure to him a suitable person for the job. Matthews said.

The actual hiring was conducted by Matthew's father, Director of Central Student Services and Learning Center, employment and have his effort. Matthews made up a job description and used that as the basis for the hiring.

Matthews wrote Olinia to tell him that several letters which evaluated them in cash were, as a business manager, good experience, work background, maturity and so on.

For all applicants, we were interviewed and according to Matthews, they were of equal level. Olinia, who was chosen for the position, said he applied for the job because it was challenging. It was desired to be that of a job and to give him an opportunity to practice his skills.

According to Olinia, the job requires him to be in business with not only the students, but also with college administrators and the outside community. He then said with these separate bodies all with have different needs.

The business manager's duties include maintaining a running inventory, to ensure their payment and working with the college manager to ensure that the students' needs are met, and negotiate with the college. Olinia is required to be in contact with the college to ensure the job is a success and to ensure that the college's needs are met. He is also required to be in contact with the college to ensure the job is a success and to ensure that the college's needs are met.

Olinia said he is excited about the job and is looking forward to the ways to ensure that DSA's business needs are met, he said.

THE U_{of} BLUE

-EVERYTHING YOU EVER WANTED TO KNOW ABOUT LABATT'S BLUE-

Lesson "1" "The pour"

There are many theories regarding the particular form of the Labatt's Blue pour. The one we favour builds a beer head from the bottom. Start by keeping the glass upright and pouring down the middle until a head begins to form. Scoop, to the foam head, then tilt the glass to a forty-five degree angle and continue to pour down the side. As the glass fills, bring it back to the upright position leaving a head about two fingers tall. The Labatt's Blue pour is always followed by the ever popular Labatt's Blue "topper," an occasion in which many of you are already well-versed.

SPORTS

Better competition brings in bigger bucks for CFL

by Greg MacIsaac

It is great to see that in these hard times, when many sporting leagues are having trouble surviving, the CFL is thriving, stronger than ever.

CFL Commissioner Jake Gardiner said the league's television rights to Caring O'Keefe for 1995 had a couple of weeks ago proved that the CFL had come a long way.

Ten years ago, the CFL would have been lucky to get one or two fans for the home final that was in 1985 the CFL cut age such a deal has on their behalf it has become more popular on television. Friday night football is one of the CFL's best selling items in Canada and in the United States on ESPN (a best sports channel).

There are many reasons why the CFL has reached such popularity. The talent has been spread more evenly throughout the league. This means that most games are interesting. At least four out of the five teams in the west division are contenders. In the east division, all four teams have come to live, although Hamilton is on the way down while Montreal, Ottawa and Toronto are getting better. As the talent in the league has become more evenly dispersed, the west has not dominated the east this season as they did through much of the seventies.

Another reason the CFL has become so popular has been the new fans Greg says that he has been playing in last couple of years. Edmonton has in recent years had against Ottawa and Toronto in 11 and 10 home games were entertaining and proved that CFL football is as exciting as the NFL.

The quality of the players coming into the CFL has also improved greatly. Instead of relying on second rate American talent, teams are going to the rich Canadian university system that had been mostly overlooked until now. Teams such as Toronto and Montreal have realized that paying huge amounts for American players usually has a disastrous result.

With the CFL getting more into Canadian territory, university football has also become more popular and of a better quality. University football is a growing force in Canada. At the time most universities were students. Now, the stadiums are filled with local residents.

In Guelph, Waterloo and London, most games are close to being sold out and Hamilton is almost 10,000 very good ratings for their university games of the week they released every Saturday. As more and more Canadians are drafted and more interest develops in university football, more money goes back into university football to develop better players, better facilities, better teams and better players.

Not only are the CFL and university leagues getting better, but Canada's minor leagues and high school football programs are improving. As they get better, the Universities will have better players coming into their system and then the CFL will also get better talent.

Although our football is improving, many Canadian football fans believe that the only good football played in the United States. This attitude may be a result of our Canadian inferiority complex but if these Canadians would just take a good look at the CFL, they would find a competitive, exciting brand of football being played.

Canadian football is, just as good as American and the quality is improving and hopefully all of us will grow to appreciate our own kind of football league.
